Tolerating Differences

1. Think about the similarities between you and the other person.

2. Take note of the differences.

3. Emphasize the shared interests, tastes, and activities you and the other person have.

4. Express appreciation and respect for the other person as an individual.